LONG TIME WARRENTON BANKER JOINS OAK VIEW NATIONAL BANK

Oak View National Bank announced today that Rick Monahan has joined the Oak View team as Vice President – Loan Officer in its Warrenton Office. Rick has been a banker in the Warrenton market for 25 years.

“At Oak View National Bank we want people’s financial lives to be better because we are involved with them. Accordingly, we try to hire people with a servant’s heart” said Michael A. Ewing, President and CEO of the bank. “Rick fits with our business model because he possesses a high level of honesty, integrity, and truly cares about doing the right thing for his clients. His move to Oak View will be good for him, the bank, and the clients and community that he serves. We are humbled by the fact that a man of his caliber chose to join our team of banking professionals.”

“This is a wonderful opportunity to get back to a community banking style of business where I can have the authority and tools to affect the lives of my clients in a positive way” Mr. Monahan said. “I am thrilled to be joining a terrific group of people and I can’t wait to get started.”

Oak View National Bank opened for business on June 8, 2009 with offices located in Warrenton and Marshall. Total deposits at the bank have grown to $15.3 million in just seven weeks of operations.
